How to Pick Classes from IGETC

Intersegmental General Education Transfer Curriculum (IGETC) is a series of subject area courses which, if completed prior to transfer, will satisfy the general education requirements at the UC and CSU system.

completed IGETC prior to transferring, although some schools may allow you to be certified after transferring. You may request certification from the Graduation Office.

Courses on the IGETC
You will need 60 UC/CSU transferable units in order to transfer. The IGETC accounts for 34-37 of these transferable units. The IGETC is not recommended for students in Engineering and Computer Science majors. See a counselor for more information. Picking courses from the IGETC

1. Finish your English and Math courses early (IGETC Areas 1 and 2). Your major may require specific English or math course so check www.assist.org for more information.
2. You major requirements may also be found on the IGETC and can usually count for both general education and major requirements. Check the www.assist.org to make sure you are able to use your major requirements as general education requirements.
3. Check the schedule of classes or catalog if the class you want to take has any prerequisites. English, math, science, computer science, and foreign language courses are examples of disciplines that usually require prerequisites.
